US Vice President Voices 'Great Optimism' Over Gaza Ceasefire's Longevity

US Vice President JD Vance expressed "great optimism" over the US-brokered Gaza ceasefire deal between Israel and Hamas, saying its implementation would require "constant monitoring and supervision".

"We are doing very well. We are in a very good place. We're going to have to keep working on it," Vance said during a press conference in Kiryat Gat, southern Israel, where a US-led mission is monitoring the Gaza ceasefire.

"I think that everybody should be proud of where we are today. It's going to require constant effort. It's going to require constant monitoring and supervision," he added.

Washington has not set a deadline for Hamas's disarmament: Vance

US Vice President JD Vance said that Washington had not set a deadline for the disarmament of Hamas set out in the US-brokered ceasefire deal in Gaza.

"We know that Hamas has to comply with the deal and if Hamas doesn't comply with the deal, very bad things are going to happen, but I'm not going to do what the President of the United States has thus far refused to do, which is put an explicit deadline on it because a lot of this stuff is difficult," Vance said during a press conference in Kiryat Gat, southern Israel.—RT/Agency

COAS Declares Crackdown On Indian Proxies, Terror Networks In Balochistan

Chief of Army Staff (COAS), Field Marshal Asim Munir, said on Tuesday that India-backed proxies, Fitna al-Hindustan and Fitna al-Khawarij, were propagating anti-people and anti-development agendas in Balochistan with malicious intent to perpetrate violence.

"All necessary actions are being taken to pursue these terrorists and rid the province of this menace," the field marshal said while interacting with participants of the 17th National Workshop Balochistan at the General Headquarters (GHQ) on Tuesday.

During his address, COAS Munir said Balochistan is the pride of Pakistan, endowed with vibrant, resilient and patriotic people who are its true wealth.

He highlighted the federal and provincial governments' development initiatives aimed at uplifting the province's socio-economic landscape through a people-centric approach, stressing the need to realise its immense economic potential.

Acknowledging the constructive role of civil society, particularly in engaging and empowering the youth, he underscored their pivotal role in ensuring sustainable development and countering vested political agendas for the long-term prosperity of Balochistan.

The field marshal reiterated that while Pakistan seeks regional peace and stability, any violation of its territorial integrity, direct or indirect, would be met with a firm and decisive response to safeguard the lives and well-being of its citizens.

The workshop concluded with a candid, interactive question and answer session between the army chief and the participants.

Khyber Pakhtunkhwa (KP) and Balochistan — both of which share a porous border with neighbouring Afghanistan — faced the brunt of the terrorism incidents, accounting for more than 96% of the total violence across the country.

Balochistan, as per a report issued by the Centre for Research and Security Studies (CRSS), witnessed at least 25% of the total violence-linked fatalities (230) and incidents (85).

During his last visit to Balochistan, Field Marshal Munir stressed the significance of joint civil-military efforts in addressing the challenges faced by the people.—RT/Agency

Khawaja Asif Confirms Pakistan's Airstrikes Deep Inside Kabul

ISLAMABAD: Defense Minister Khawaja Asif has for the first time confirmed that Pakistan conducted airstrikes inside Afghanistan earlier this month, targeting Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) terrorists in Kabul and other cities.

"They [TTP] are housed over there — nobody can deny that," Asif told Arab News in an interview. "Their leadership is there, and that is why we went after them when there were strikes in Kabul last week and a couple of other cities."

His comments mark the first public acknowledgment by a senior Pakistani official of cross-border air operations against militant sanctuaries inside Afghanistan.Asif revealed that an understanding was reached in Doha, under which Türkiye and Qatar would serve as guarantors to ensure the TTP does not use Afghan soil for attacks in Pakistan. Both sides are expected to meet again in Istanbul on October 25 for follow-up discussions."The mechanism of this arrangement will be decided there — how to monitor the activities of the TTP in Afghanistan," Asif added.The defense minister said that tensions between Pakistan and Afghanistan had recently escalated to direct clashes, but both sides have now agreed that the immediate eradication of terrorism is essential for regional peace.Khawaja Asif said his Afghan counterpart acknowledged that terrorism is the main source of tension and assured that steps would be taken to address it.—RT/Agency

Gohar Reveals: Achakzai Made Opposition Leader On Party Founder's Orders

RAWALPINDI: PTI Chairman Barrister Gohar on Tuesday said that Mahmood Achakzai has been named for the office of the leader of the opposition on the instructions of the PTI's founder.

Talking to media Barrister Gohar today said that an application with signatures from 74 MNAs has been submitted in the National Assembly.

He said that Chief Minister Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Sohail Afridi's meeting with the founder is necessary. "If he wouldn't allow the meeting, the chief minister has his authority".

PTI Chairman said that Omar Ayub's wife will be the PTI's candidate for by election in NA-18-Haripur. "We will strongly contest in this by election," he said.

He said that according to the KP government, old and dysfunctional vehicles have been returned to federal government.

"Our meeting with PTI founder is necessary today. This practice should now be closed, there should be no prohibition of the jail visits," Gohar said.

He said when Nawaz Sharif was in jail meetings with him were used to be allowed.

"The territory of any country should not be used for terrorism in Pakistan," replying a question PTI leader said.—RT/Agency

The meeting was marked by mutual goodwill and a spirit of political understanding.-RT

India Quietly Reopens Embassy In Kabul, Signaling Diplomatic Reset

KABUL:India has "reopened" its embassy in the Afghan capital Kabul after four years, as diplomatic relations between both countries saw a significant expansion following Afghan Taliban Foreign Minister Amir Khan Muttaqi's recent visit to New Delhi.

This development came after Indian Foreign Minister Subrahmanyam Jaishankar announced earlier this month that New Delhi would reopen its embassy in Kabul.

India had closed its embassy in Kabul after the Taliban seized power following the withdrawal of US-led Nato forces in 2021, but opened a small mission a year later to facilitate trade, medical support, and humanitarian aid.

In a statement, the Indian Ministry of External Affairs said: "In keeping with the decision announced during the recent visit of the Afghan Foreign Minister to India, the government is restoring the status of the Technical Mission of India in Kabul to that of Embassy of India in Afghanistan with immediate effect."

"This decision underscores India's resolve to deepen its bilateral engagement with the Afghan side in all spheres of mutual interest."

"The Embassy of India in Kabul will further augment India's contribution to Afghanistan's comprehensive development, humanitarian assistance, and capacity-building initiatives, in keeping with the priorities and aspirations of Afghan society," it concluded.—RT/Agency

UN Warns: Sustaining Gaza Ceasefire Crucial To Save Lives, Deliver Aid

GENEVA: Maintaining the Gaza ceasefire is crucial to delivering life-saving humanitarian aid in the territory, the United Nations said Tuesday, repeating a call for all crossings to be opened.

"Sustaining the ceasefire is vital; really it's the only way we can save lives," Abeer Etefa, Middle East spokeswoman for the UN's World Food Programme, told a briefing in Geneva.

"We know it's a fragile ceasefire; the most important thing is that it lasts."

Etefa said that since the ceasefire came into force, 530 WFP trucks had crossed into Gaza, bringing in more than 6,700 tonnes of food, which she said was "enough for close to half a million people for two weeks".

"Convoys are pushing through, food is getting to the warehouses and distributions are happening in an organised and dignified manner," she said.

Etefa added that WFP had not seen looting of its convoys since the ceasefire.

The spokeswoman said WFP now had 26 food distribution points open in Gaza — up from five on Friday, but still far short of the 145 it hopes to run throughout the territory.—RT/Agency

Netanyahu Draws 'Red Line,' Rejects Turkish, Qatari Mediation In Gaza Plan

TEL AVIV: Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has strongly objected to any Turkish or Qatari presence in Gaza under the proposed postwar peace plan, calling it a "red line" that Israel will not cross, according to reports by Israel Hayom.

The move has raised concerns in Washington, where officials are working to ensure Israel does not derail the U.S.-backed deal with Hamas aimed at stabilizing Gaza once the ongoing conflict ends.

Dispute over humanitarian role

According to U.S. officials, the proposed role of Türkiye and Qatar would be strictly humanitarian and civilian, focusing on aid distribution, reconstruction, and civil administration support in coordination with international organizations.

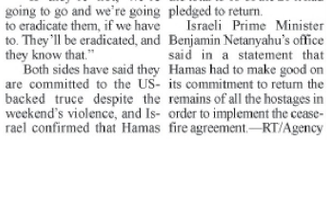

However, Netanyahu and senior Israeli officials fear that Ankara and Doha's involvement could translate into political influence in Gaza, potentially strengthening Hamas-linked networks and undermining Israel's security interests.

"Jerusalem views any Turkish or Qatari presence as a direct threat to Israeli sovereignty and regional stability," an Israeli source told Israel Hayom, adding that Netanyahu had made his opposition clear during recent high-level discussions.

White House concerned over breakdown

Trump Warns Hamas Against Violating Gaza Deal As Vance Heads To Israel

US: US President Donald Trump threatened to "eradicate" Hamas if it breached its ceasefire deal with Israel, as Vice President JD Vance travelled to the region Tuesday to bolster the fragile Gaza truce.

The Trump administration has redoubled its efforts to cement the fragile Gaza peace agreement it helped to broker, after Israel accused Hamas of stalling the handover of hostages' bodies and deadly violence flared up in the territory over the weekend.

"We made a deal with Hamas that they're going to be very good, they're going to behave, they're going to be nice," Trump told reporters at the White House on Monday.

"If they're not, we're going to go and we're going to eradicate them, if we have to. They'll be eradicated, and they know that."

Both sides have said they are committed to the US-backed truce despite the weekend's violence, and Israel confirmed that Hamas handed over the body of a hostage on Monday, taking the total to 13 of the 28 it had pledged to return.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's office said in a statement that Hamas had to make good on its commitment to return the remains of all the hostages in order to implement the ceasefire agreement.—RT/Agency

After Chaman, Torkham Border Next In Line For Reopening Trade With Afghanistan

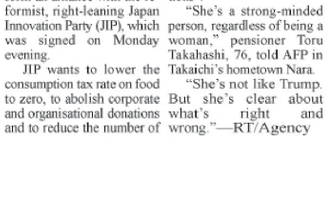

After the reopening of the Chaman border crossing, Pakistan and Afghanistan are preparing to restore trade movement through the Torkham trade corridor, sources in the Customs Department confirmed on Tuesday.

According to officials, all preparations for reopening the Torkham border crossing have been completed, and the trade route could be operational anytime by tomorrow.

"Customs staff have been deployed at the Torkham terminal, and scanners have been installed for the clearance of cargo vehicles," a customs source said.Nine-day closure led to heavy congestionThe Torkham border crossing — a major gateway for trade between Pakistan and Afghanistan — has remained closed for all types of traffic for the past nine days, causing severe disruption to bilateral and transit trade.—RT/Agency

Breaking Barriers: Takaichi Becomes Japan's First Woman Prime Minister

TOKYO: Japan got its first woman prime minister on Tuesday after Sanae Takaichi, a China hawk and social conservative, forged an 11th-hour coalition deal.

Japan's fifth premier in as many years will lead a minority government and has a full in-tray, not least a scheduled visit by US President Donald Trump next week.

Parliament appointed Takaichi, an admirer of Margaret Thatcher, as prime minister on Tuesday, after she unexpectedly won a majority in a first round of voting.

She will formally take office after meeting the emperor later.

The former heavy metal drummer became on October 4 head of the Liberal Democratic Party (LDP), which has governed almost non-stop for decades but is losing support.

Six days later the Komeito party, uncomfortable about Takaichi's conservative views and an LDP slush fund scandal, quit their coalition.

This forced Takaichi to form an alliance with the reformist, right-leaning Japan Innovation Party (JIP), which was signed on Monday evening.

JIP wants to lower the consumption tax rate on food to zero, to abolish corporate and organisational donations and to reduce the number of MPs.

Takaichi pledged Monday to "make Japan's economy stronger, and reshape Japan as a country that can be responsible for future generations".

"She's a strong-minded person, regardless of being a woman," pensioner Toru Takahashi, 76, told AFP in Takaichi's hometown Nara.

"She's not like Trump. But she's clear about what's right and wrong."—RT/Agency

Kotri's 'Showpiece' Crackdown on Iranian Petrol Sparks Local Outcry for Inquiry

By Munwar Chandio

KOTRI, JAMSHORO: The Jamshoro District Administration's recent crackdown on illegal Iranian petrol units in Kotri has drawn sharp criticism from citizens and legal experts, who described the move as a superficial exercise that failed to address the roots of the illicit fuel trade.

The operation, launched on the directives of Deputy Commissioner Jamshoro Ghazanfar Ali Qadri and carried out by Assistant Commissioner Kotri Nadeem Khokhar, resulted in the sealing of several units. However, observers say no tangible results were achieved.

Sources revealed that no smuggled petrol was confiscated, no arrests were made, and no FIRs were registered against those involved. Analysts stressed that the operation should have included key institutions such as Pakistan Customs, the police, and OGRA to ensure accountability and legal action.

Terror and Floods Disrupt Supply Chains; Tomato and Vegetable Prices Soar — Arz Muhammad Gola

By Inayatullah Hur

JAFFARABAD: President of the Dera Allah Yar Vegetable Market, Arz Muhammad Gola, while commenting on the recent surge in tomato and vegetable prices, stated that ongoing terrorist incidents in border regions, allegedly instigated by anti-state elements, have led to border closures, severely disrupting the import and transportation of vegetables from abroad.He further added that devastating floods in Punjab have destroyed crops, resulting in a severe shortage of vegetables across the country. Gola said that the current crisis and abnormal price hike of tomatoes and other vegetables are due to the failure of both the government and local administration to manage the situation effectively.

"Let Them Eat Ketchup!" — The Government's Marie Antoinette Moment as Tomato Prices Hit the Sky

As tomato prices touch an unthinkable Rs700 per kilogram, Pakistan's ruling elite appear dangerously out of touch — their behavior echoing Marie Antoinette's infamous obliviousness to her starving subjects. "Let them eat cake," she allegedly quipped. In today's Pakistan, one might imagine ministers shrugging, "Let them eat ketchup."

The crisis of affordability has reached a grotesque level where the nation's most basic kitchen ingredient now costs more than chicken. From Karachi to Faisalabad and Peshawar, tomatoes have vanished from the tables of ordinary Pakistanis, replaced by frustration and despair. In some cities, even peas and onions have soared beyond Rs400 per kilogram, signaling a full-blown food inflation catastrophe.

The REGIONAL TIMES
Uniting People Every Day

While the stock market inches upward and government officials boast of economic recovery, the reality on the streets tells a very different story. People are going hungry, inflation is devouring paychecks, and yet policymakers appear content to drown in their own self-praise. The disconnect is staggering.

This crisis cannot be brushed aside as a mere supply issue or import delay. It reflects a deeper rot — administrative paralysis, absence of price control, and a cruel lack of empathy. When regulators like Ogra rush to deny fuel shortages but remain silent on the food crisis, it exposes where priorities truly lie.

The time for hollow assurances is over. The government must act decisively — control profiteering, streamline supply chains, and provide genuine relief. Otherwise, history may remember today's rulers just as it remembers Marie Antoinette — detached, dismissive, and disastrously out of touch with the people's pain.

Pakistan To Launch Esports Federation, Drafts National Gaming Policy

ISLAMABAD: Chairman of the Prime Minister's Youth Programme in Pakistan, Rana Mashhood Ahmad Khan, announced Tuesday that the country is establishing the Esports Federation and developing a policy to 'support' game developers and digital innovators.

Mashhood made the announcement while addressing a ceremony here, recognising the sector as a fast-growing and multibillion-dollar global industry. He further shared that around sixty million Pakistanis are involved in Esports, and that the new policy would help them grow.

It is pertinent to mention that Pakistani gamers are recognised globally due to their monumental achievements at the international stage, with Arslan Ash leading the charge as he has clinched seven Evolution Championship Series (EVO) titles in Tekken.

The 30-year-old lifted his seventh title at the France 2025 Tekken 8 World Championship, where he defeated South Korea's JeonDDing in a tightly contested final.

Earlier this year, in August, the EVO 2025 Championship in Las Vegas saw two Pakistani gamers – Ash and Atif Butt – in the final.

Representing Twisted Minds, Ash defeated his compatriot to clinch his seventh title.

Ash hails from Lahore and has won international Tekken competitions after learning to play as an eight-year-old in gaming arcades in the country.

During his interaction with journalists, Ash said, "We both work so hard, we have to face each other."

"That's the thing, I don't want to face him. I know he's so strong. We play each other every day and know each other's weaknesses. We can't hide from each other. It's 50/50," Ash added.—Agency

England Rugby Icon Emily Scarratt Bows Out at 35

England's legendary rugby star Emily Scarratt, the nation's all-time top point scorer and a key figure in two Rugby World Cup victories, has announced her retirement at the age of 35, the Rugby Football Union (RFU) confirmed on Tuesday.

Playing as a centre, Scarratt made her England debut in 2008 and went on to earn 119 caps, scoring 754 points through 54 tries, 158 conversions, and 56 penalties.

This year, she made history by becoming the first English player—male or female—to compete in five World Cup tournaments, finishing with England's triumph on home soil.

Reflecting on her career, Scarratt expressed gratitude for her time in rugby and pride in her achievements.

"It's been the greatest privilege to wear the England shirt and represent my country for so many years. Rugby has given me everything—amazing teammates, unforgettable memories and experiences I'll carry with me forever," Scarratt said.

"I still love the game, but the time feels right to step away. You don't always get the chance in sport to make that decision for yourself, and I feel lucky to do so on my own terms, proud of everything I've been part of."

Scarratt has already begun a coaching role with Loughborough Lightning and will also take on a specialist coaching and mentorship position with the RFU, the governing body confirmed.

England head coach John Mitchell praised Scarratt as a "once-in-a-generation" player who led by example.

"She's had a huge impact on the Red Roses and on women's rugby globally, and we're thrilled she'll continue to share that experience through a different role," Mitchell said.—Agency

Wolvaardt's 90 Powers South Africa to Crushing 150-Run Victory Over Pakistan!

In a rain-impacted Women's World Cup match on Tuesday, Laura Wolvaardt led from the front with a powerful 90 as South Africa crushed Pakistan by 150 runs in Colombo. Wolvaardt's attacking knock helped South Africa post a mammoth total of 312-9 in their reduced 40 overs. The match was plagued by heavy rain in Sri Lanka, which has caused four matches to be abandoned in the past two weeks.

Pakistan, chasing a revised target of 234 in 20 overs, never stood a chance and was bowled out for just 83-7. This defeat marked Pakistan's sixth straight loss, ensuring they would not advance to the semi-finals. South Africa's win, their fifth consecutive victory, confirmed their spot in the semi-finals alongside Australia and England.

South Africa's innings began with a rain delay, leaving them 6-1 after two overs. However, Wolvaardt and Sune Luus (61) steadied the ship with a 118-run partnership. Despite Wolvaardt falling short of a century, Marizanne Kapp (68*) and Nadine de Klerk (41 off 16 balls) pushed the total past 300, with boundaries flowing in the final overs. Pakistan's chase was hindered by continuous rain delays, ultimately falling short. With Pakistan's exit, the remaining semi-finals and final will be played in India on November 2.—Agency

Second Pakistan–South Africa Test on a Knife's Edge After Asif's Twin Breakthroughs

RAWALPINDI: The second and final Test between Pakistan and South Africa remains finely poised after Tony de Zorzi and Tristan Stubbs scored fifties, but debutant Asif Afridi's late strike with the ball ended day two at 185-4 in 65 overs, with the Proteas trailing by 148 runs at Rawalpindi Cricket Stadium on Tuesday.

Resuming their innings after bowling out Pakistan for 333, South Africa's openers Ryan Rickelton and captain Aiden Markram aimed to provide a solid start.

Runs flowed steadily, but the partnership was broken when Shaheen Afridi dismissed Rickelton for 14 off 26 balls, leaving the visitors at 22-1 in 8.2 overs.

Markram took charge after Rickelton's dismissal, striking boundaries and keeping the scoreboard ticking, helping South Africa reach the 50-run mark in the 20th over.

However, Sajid Khan dismissed Markram for 32 off 62 balls, ending a 32-run stand with Tristan Stubbs.

Tony de Zorzi then steadied the innings alongside Stubbs, adding 32 runs for the third wicket as tea approached.

In the final session, the duo grew in confidence, putting Pakistan's bowlers under pressure and regularly finding the boundary.

Both Stubbs and de Zorzi went on to score fifties, compiling a 100-run partnership for the third wicket, with South Africa reaching 166-2 in 57 overs.Pakistan found relief when Asif Afridi broke the 113-run stand by dismissing Tony de Zorzi, who scored 55 off 93 deliveries with one four and two sixes.

In the 60th over, Asif struck again, removing Dewald Brevis for a four-ball duck, leaving South Africa at 171-4 in 59.3 overs.

The Proteas will resume day three with Tristan Stubbs unbeaten on 68 and Kyle Verreynne on 10 at the crease.Batting first, Pakistan got off to a steady start as openers Imam-ul-Haq and Abdullah Shafique put on 35 runs for the first wicket before Imam was bowled by Simon Harmer for 17 off 35 balls.Abdullah Shafique continued with composure, combining aggression with patience to counter South Africa's bowling.Skipper Shan Masood joined him and displayed positive intent, hitting two towering sixes as Pakistan reached 65-1 after 20 overs.—Agency

Athapaththu's Heroics Stun Bangladesh as Sri Lanka Pull Off a Miracle Win

NAVI MUMBAI: Sri Lanka snatched victory from the jaws of defeat to record their first win of the Women's Cricket World Cup, edging out Bangladesh by seven runs in a nerve jangling finish in Navi Mumbai on Monday.

With Bangladesh cruising and only nine needed off the final over with five wickets in hand, having mustered just three runs off the penultimate over, skipper Chamari Athapaththu took the ball herself and turned the game on its head.

Four wickets tumbled in four balls as Bangladesh collapsed, losing five wickets for just two runs.

Athapaththu, calm amid the storm, finished with career-best figures of 4-42.

The drama began with Rabeya Khan trapped leg-before off the first ball, followed by a run-out next delivery.

Then, Bangladesh's hopes sank when their captain Nigar Sultana danced down the track only to find long-off lurking.

When Marufa Akter was adjudged lbw next ball, Athapaththu had conjured the unthinkable, defending nine with a single run conceded in the over.

"We handled the pressure well. We knew that if we took the game deep, teams could crumble," Athapaththu said. "It wasn't perfect, batting collapses and dropped catches hurt us, but luck smiled at us today."

For once, fortune favoured Sri Lanka, whose campaign had been marred by rain, missed chances and misfiring batters.

Hasini Perera, who struck her maiden ODI half-century, made 85 off 99 balls, peppered with 13 fours and a six.

She was the backbone of Sri Lanka's 202 all out as she reached the milestone of 1,000 runs in ODIs.

A 74-run partnership with Nilakshika de Silva gave Sri Lanka a solid launch pad, before another collapse saw six wickets fall for 28 run.

Even so, the Sri Lankans held their nerve in the death overs to seal the win and climb to sixth in the standings.

With four points, they are level with New Zealand and India, although will need results to go in their favour to grab the last semi-final spot.

Australia, South Africa and England have already booked their places in the last four.—Agency

Naqvi Floats Idea Of Ceremony To Hand Asia Cup Trophy To India

Asian Cricket Council (ACC) Chairman Mohsin Naqvi has reportedly proposed holding a ceremony to present the Asia Cup 2025 trophy to India, which clinched the title last month.

The Indian team, acting on instructions from the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI), refused to accept the trophy from Naqvi, following their victory over Pakistan in the final on September 29.

The BCCI has since written a formal letter to the ACC chairman, requesting that the trophy be handed over to them.

In his response, the ACC chairman reportedly asked the BCCI to send an Indian player to attend a ceremony and collect the trophy from him.

The sources said that Naqvi remained firm on his stance that he would present the silverware during the ceremony.The ACC has also proposed holding the ceremony on November 10 in Dubai, they added.

The development comes a month after the Indian team received backlash for consistently making political statements during last month's Asia Cup.

Pundits slammed Indian captain Suryakumar Yadav for refusing the customary handshake with Pakistan skipper Salman Ali Agha at the toss for their game on September 14.

In the following two games, including the final, the two sides skipped handshakes and also stayed in separate huddles during the post-match ceremonies.—Agency

QEAT Thrillers: FATA, Sialkot, Multan, Abbottabad Shine In Third-Round Wins

The third round of the Quaid-e-Azam Trophy (QEAT) 2025-26 concluded across four venues in three cities, with FATA, Sialkot, Multan and Abbottabad winning their respective matches.

At the Imran Khan Cricket Stadium in Peshawar, Karachi Blues suffered a humbling 184-run defeat at the hands of FATA on the final day of their third-round fixtures as the leaders were bowled out for a meagre 111 while chasing 296.

Resuming their pursuit from 67/4, Karachi Blues could add 44 more to their overnight score for the loss of the remaining six wickets.

Number eight batter Mohammad Usman Rahim remained the top-scorer with a 39-ball 23, while Haroon Arshad (20), skipper Rameez Aziz (18) and Saad Baig (17) were the other to amass double figures.

Shahid Aziz led the bowling charge for FATA in the second innings, registering a five-wicket haul, while Sameen Gul chipped in with two scalps.

In another third-round QEAT match, defending champions Sialkot crushed Lahore Whites by 284 runs on the final day.

At the start of the final day's play, Lahore Whites resumed their 390-run pursuit from 18/1 and could add 87 more to their overnight score to ultimately get bowled out for a modest 105 in 35.5 overs.—Agency

Cougar Jessica Simpson Branded 'Self-Obsessed' Amid New Love Hunt

Jessica Simpson's self-love may be making it harder for her to find someone new.

Since her split from Eric Johnson, the With You singer has been searching for a new relationship, but according to RadarOnline.com, potential suitors are keeping their distance.A source told the outlet that the men she has met are not too keen because "she's self-obsessed and can't carry on a conversation that isn't about her."At this point, Jessica, once famously described as "s*l napalm" by ex-boyfriend John Mayer, "would love a roll in the hay," the insider said.

Simpson shares three children, Maxwell Drew, Ace Knute, and Birdie Mae, with her ex-husband Eric Johnson, from whom she separated earlier this year.

"But she keeps getting knocked back, and that's making her even more hot and bothered," they said.

Despite her romantic dry spell, Simpson has been channelling her focus into her career and personal growth.Earlier this year, the Nashville Canyon artist released her first music project in 15 years and launched a new fragrance, Mystic Canyon.

Brad-less Jennifer Aniston Reveals Why She Skipped This Year's Met Gala — Fans Shocked

Jennifer Aniston has finally opened up about staying away from the Met Gala's red carpet.

According to Radar Online, the 56-year-old American actress's decision to not illuminate the famous red carpet of the Met Gala has upset fashion doyenne Anna Wintour, and she might be banned from attending fashion's biggest night.

Reflecting on her decision, Aniston said, "It's the getting ready, the putting on the dress. I'm a 'jeans and flip-flops and tank top' kind of girl. I love dressing up too, but for me it's a mental game of…'Let's get dressed up, put on a fancy dress, makeup, get your hair all 'purdy' and go sit in a big room with your peers.' (And yes,) everyone's there to celebrate each other and have some fun, but I get nervous."

The Friends star went on to take a jab at critics by quipping, "Some people find it like a sport where they build you up and then they love to tear you down. What's the reason why people do it? Who knows? But I just try as best I can (to tune it out) because it doesn't do you any good."

An insider told Vogue that Aniston might be removed from the Met Gala's guest list because "once you insult Anna, it can stick."

Bachalpur Police Seal Illegal Clinics, Move Against Quacks

By Yousuf Rind

NAWAB WALI MUHAMMAD: In Bachalpur city near Nawab Wali Muhammad, police for the first time took action against unlicensed quack doctors running illegal clinics, shutting them down.

The head clerk of Bachalpur Police Station, Arif Anar, informed the media that they had received instructions from senior officials to take strict legal action against those running clinics without valid licenses in Bachalpur and nearby rural areas. Acting upon these orders, the police sealed several illegal clinics operating in the region.

He further stated that all unauthorized clinics within the jurisdiction of Bachalpur Police Station will be closed down. Quack doctors running such setups are not only providing illegal treatment but also endangering public health. In rural areas, the same syringes are often reused on multiple patients, posing serious risks of spreading life-threatening diseases such as cancer, AIDS, and hepatitis.

Justice Mazhar Cites Indian Judiciary's Courage In 26th Amendment Hearing

ISLAMABAD: Supreme Court Justice Muhammad Ali Mazhar has cited an example of Indian judiciary as the top judges debated the powers vested in Constitutional Bench and the apex court.

During a hearing of the petitions challenging the 26th Constitutional Amendment, lawyer Shabbar Raza Rizvi contended before the bench that India was the only country where there is Constitutional Bench, while other countries have a Constitutional Court.

Justice Mazhar responded by saying: "In India too, the Constitutional Bench has special powers".

"India is the only country where there is a Constitutional Bench, other countries have a Constitutional Court," responded lawyer Rizvi, adding that in the neighbouring country, only the chief justice can form the bench.

"In India, the CJ has been declared Master of Roster [whereas] in Pakistan two committees have been formed and the CJP is not the Master of the Roster," remarked Justice Mazhar while drawing a comparison between the judicial structure of Islamabad and New Delhi.

The remarks came during the hearing of multiple pleas filed against the 26th Amendment, by an eight-member bench led by Justice Amin-Ud-Din Khan.The bench also includes Justice Jamal Khan Mandokhail, Justice Ayesha A Malik, Justice Syed Hassan Azhar Rizvi, Justice Musarrat Hilali, Justice Naeem Akhtar Afghan and Justice Shahid Bilal Hassan.

Around three dozen petitioners, including the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI), Jamaat-e-Islami (JI), Sunni Ittehad Council (SIC), Lahore High Court Bar Association, Lahore Bar Association, Karachi Bar Association as well as the former seven presidents of the Supreme Court Bar Association (SCBA) and various individuals in personal capacity, had challenged the validity of the 26th Constitutional Amendment.Presenting his arguments today, counsel Rizvi said that under the amendment, the SC retained its constitutional powers under a proviso."The 26th Amendment has transferred the power of constitutional interpretation to the SC to the Constitutional Bench," Justice Mazhar replied.

Justice Hilali said that the Constitution had already been amended and a CB had been formed accordingly and asked, "Are you [Rizvi] asking that we will have to suspend the 26th Constitutional Amendment first?""How will we bypass Article 191-A?" the judge questioned, to which the lawyer replied that the said article must be read in conjunction with other provisions of the Constitution, as "it could not be read alone".—RT/Agency

PM Shehbaz Unveils Pakistan's First Semiconductor Program 'INSPIRE'

ISLAMABAD: Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif on Tuesday launched INSPIRE — Pakistan's Initiative to Nurture Semiconductor Professionals for Industry, Research & Education, marking a significant step toward the country's transition to a knowledge-based digital economy and entry into the $600 billion global semiconductor ecosystem.

The initiative, led by the Ministry of Information Technology and Telecommunication (MoITT) and executed by the Pakistan Software Export Board (PSEB), aims to position Pakistan as a competitive player in the global semiconductor industry, which is projected to surpass $1 trillion by 2030.

In this address, Prime Minister Shehbaz said Allah Almighty had bestowed Pakistan with abundance of natural resources and benefiting from these resources was the core responsibility of the government.

He said the Planning Ministry, under the Public Sector Development Programme (PSDP), had allocated Rs4.5 billion for the programme, adding that funding would not be an obstacle to its success.

In her remarks, Federal Minister for IT and Telecommunication Shaza Fatima Khawaja reaffirmed the government's commitment to developing a digitally empowered Pakistan.

Chairman of the National Semiconductor Task Force Dr. Naveed Sherwani briefed the audience on the strategic roadmap and underlined Pakistan's opportunity to build a world-class semiconductor ecosystem.—RT/Agency

Russia Says No Date Yet For Much-Anticipated Trump–Putin Summit

MOSCOW: Russia on Tuesday said there was "no precise timeframe" for a summit between Vladimir Putin and Donald Trump on Ukraine and doused hopes for a swift preparatory meeting to finalise the talks.

Following a phone call last week, the Russian and US leaders Vladimir Putin and Donald Trump announced they would meet in Budapest for talks on resolving the war in Ukraine, triggered by Moscow's February 2022 all-out offensive.

Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov and US counterpart Marco Rubio spoke on Monday to discuss preparations for the summit, and are expected to meet in person to finalise details.

Trump said the meeting with Putin could take place within two weeks, though that timeline appears to be slipping away as Moscow now said laying the groundwork for the meeting "could take time".

"No precise timeframe was initially set here," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters, including from AFP, at a briefing on Tuesday.

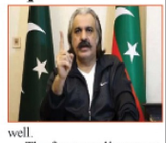

Asked if the summit could be postponed, Peskov said: "You can't postpone something that hasn't been set in stone … Preparation is needed, serious preparation."

Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei Ryabkov said earlier on Tuesday it was "premature" to talk about details of a preparatory meeting between Lavrov and Rubio.

"Neither before the phone call nor during yesterday's call was the meeting specifically raised," Ryabkov was quoted as saying by Russian state news agencies.

Trump, who previously claimed he could settle the Ukraine war in a matter of hours, has shown frustration with both Moscow and Kyiv over the failure to broker peace.A previous summit between Putin and Trump in Alaska ended early with no breakthrough towards a peace deal.Ukraine says a meeting between Putin and Zelensky is needed to make progress, but the Kremlin has ruled out talks with the Ukrainian leader until a peace deal is practically agreed.—RT/Agency

Ex-KP CM Faces Non-Bailable Warrant In Arms And Liquor Case

ISLAMABAD: A district and sessions court in the federal capital on Tuesday issued non-bailable arrest warrant against former Khyber Pakhtunkhwa chief minister Ali Amin Gandapur in arms and liquor recovery case.

The warrant was issued in light of Gandapur's continuous absence from the court hearings. Judicial Magistrate Mubashir Hassan ordered the police to arrest the former KP CM and produce him before the court.

The development pertains to a case registered against the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) leader at the Bara Kahu Police Station in the federal capital. The next hearing of the case will take place on October 28.

The arrest warrant adds to the legal woes of the firebrand PTI leader, who was recently ousted from KP's CM post, as the same court and magistrate issued his arrest warrant in the said case in the previous month as well.

The former ruling party, ever since May 9 riots in 2023, has been engulfed in legal woes and political challenges with its founder Imran Khan as well as senior leadership, including Shah Mahmood Qureshi, Yasmin Rashid and others, are behind bars over their alleged involvement in various incidents.

A day earlier, an anti-terrorism court (ATC) in Rawalpindi ordered police to arrest PTI founder's sister Aleema Khan and produce her before the court on October 22 in connection with cases related to the protest staged by the party on November 26 last year.—RT/Agency

Asif Urges 'Hard State' Stance, Hints At Possible Ban On TLP

ISLAMABAD: Pointing towards violent protests of the Tehreek-e-Labbaik Pakistan (TLP), Defence Minister Khawaja Asif said on Tuesday that the country should act as a "hard state" to curb extremism, as religious extremist groups formed in the name of religion are unacceptable in any state.

His statement came days after the Punjab government sent a summary to the Centre seeking a ban on TLP after violent demonstrations in the province left many dead and scores injured.

Although the group was not named in official statements, the provincial government had vowed that individuals involved in spreading violence, inciting hatred, or causing public harm would be arrested and prosecuted under anti-terrorism laws.

"We have to become a hard state," said Asif, adding that such religious extremist groups, which resort to violence and cause damage to property, cannot be tolerated in Pakistan.He said that it was too late as such groups had been formed and encouraged for decades, adding: "Everyone knows who created them and for what purpose."—RT/Agency

IMF Cautions: Floods To Hit Pakistan's Growth, Spark Inflation Surge

ISLAMABAD: The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has warned that the recent floods in Pakistan could have a negative impact on the country's economy, potentially slowing growth, worsening inflation, and straining the current account balance.

In its latest Middle East and Central Asia Regional Economic Outlook report, the IMF said that Pakistan's GDP growth rate for the current fiscal year may drop to 3.6 percent, below the target of 4.2 percent, due to the economic disruption caused by the floods.

Economic indicators likely to worsen

According to the IMF report, the widespread flooding during the third quarter of 2025 is expected to weigh heavily on agriculture, infrastructure, and household incomes, contributing to inflationary pressures and a widening current account deficit.

"Economic growth, inflation, and the current account balance may deteriorate due to the floods," the report stated, noting that the magnitude of these adverse effects remains uncertain.

The IMF highlighted that while flood recovery efforts are underway, the macroeconomic outlook remains fragile, with rising prices posing a renewed challenge to monetary stability.

Inflation fears resurfaceThe Fund cautioned that inflation could rise again this year, citing multiple contributing factors.—RT/Agency

PML-N Bows Out Of AJK Coalition, Calls It 'Unnatural Alliance'

AJK: The Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) announced on Tuesday its decision to part ways with the Azad Jammu and Kashmir (AJK) government, saying the party would not support any 'unnatural' process of government formation.

According to details, the announcement came from the PML-N AJK chapter president, Shah Ghulam Qadir, who made it clear that the PML-N would now sit in opposition. He said that if the Pakistan Peoples Party (PPP) moved a vote of no confidence, it would be within its democratic right.

However, he reaffirmed that the PML-N would not support any move that went against its principles.

Qadir warned that any member who defied the party policy would face disciplinary action, adding that a stable government in AJK could only emerge through transparent general elections. He also emphasised that the PML-N remained active for the welfare of refugees and overseas Kashmiris.

He termed the PML-N AJK as an organised and popular political force and vowed that the party would continue to play a constructive role in resolving the constitutional and political crisis.

Qadir maintained that the PML-N would run a vigorous election campaign under the leadership of PML-N President Nawaz Sharif and Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif.—RT/Agency

Russia Welcomes Pakistan–Afghanistan Ceasefire As Major Diplomatic Win

MOSCOW: Russia has welcomed the ceasefire agreement reached between Pakistan and Afghanistan following recent deadly border clashes, commending both countries for opting for dialogue and diplomacy over confrontation.

The truce, brokered by Qatar and Türkiye during talks in Doha on Sunday, has been hailed as a key step toward regional stability.

Moscow hails ceasefire

In a statement on Tuesday, Russian Foreign Ministry Spokeswoman Maria Zakharova expressed Moscow's strong support for the ceasefire, describing it as a "mutual agreement along the Afghan-Pakistani border" achieved through the mediation of Qatari and Turkish authorities.

"We welcome the agreement on a mutual ceasefire along the Afghan-Pakistani border, achieved between Kabul and Islamabad with the mediation of the Qatari and Turkish authorities," Zakharova said.

She further emphasized that the decision by both sides to engage in dialogue and resolve their disputes peacefully "forms the basis for maintaining peace between the two countries, which are friendly to us, and serves as an important factor in ensuring regional security."—RT/Agency

SC Judges Sound Alarm: New SJC Code Threatens Judicial Independence

ISLAMABAD: Two members of the Supreme Judicial Council (SJC), Justice Mansoor Ali Shah and Justice Muneeb Akhtar, have raised strong objections to the recent approval of amendments to the judges' code of conduct by a majority of the council's members.

In a detailed letter addressed to the SJC, the two judges questioned the process through which the amendments were approved and expressed concern over the inclusion of Islamabad High Court (IHC) Chief Justice Sarfraz Dogar in the council, noting that his transfer to the IHC is currently under challenge before the Supreme Court.

The development came after the SJC meeting revised the code of conduct for judges, prohibiting them from speaking to the media or taking part in any public debate on political issues.

Chief Justice of Pakistan and SJC Chairman Justice Yahya Afridi chaired the meeting at the Supreme Court of Pakistan on October 18.

The meeting was virtually attended by Justice Shah and Justice Akhtar through video link, while Justice Aalia Neelum, Chief Justice, Lahore High Court and Justice Sardar Muhammad Sarfraz Dogar, Chief Justice, Islamabad High Court, attended in-person.

According to an amended code of conduct, "[Judges] shall not have any interaction with the media, especially in relation to issues which may give rise to public debate or adversely affect institutional collegiality and discipline," read the statement issued last week.—RT/Agency

Joy In D.I. Khan: Birth Of First Test Tube Baby Marks Medical Milestone

DIK: Dera Ismail Khan has made history with the first successful birth of a test tube baby (IVF), a groundbreaking achievement that marks a new chapter of hope for childless couples in the region. The milestone was made possible by the expert medical team at Abida Infertility ICSI and Maternity Home Services (AIIMS), in collaboration with Rehmania Hospital.

The initiative, led by renowned doctors Dr. Anila Rehman and Dr. Sobia Rehman, brought cutting-edge reproductive technology to Dera Ismail Khan, allowing couples who previously struggled with infertility to explore the option of IVF.

The success of the procedure offers new possibilities to many families facing challenges in conceiving naturally.

Dr. Anila Rehman, speaking to journalists, expressed her satisfaction with the results, emphasizing that the IVF procedure met national standards for quality and safety. She praised the hard work and dedication of the medical team, highlighting their commitment to providing the best possible care and support to the patients.

This success marks a major advancement in the region's healthcare capabilities, offering hope to couples who have faced years of infertility struggles. With such innovative treatments now available locally, Dera Ismail Khan has become a beacon of possibility for those wishing to start a family.—RT/Agency

Iran Pulls Out Of IAEA Deal After UN Sanctions Reimposed

TEHRAN: Iran has formally scrapped its nuclear inspection agreement with the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), just weeks after the reinstatement of UN sanctions, state media reported on Tuesday.

The announcement marks a new low in Tehran's strained relations with Western powers and the UN watchdog.

The decision, made public by Supreme National Security Council Secretary Ali Larijani, comes less than a month after the UN sanctions were reimposed on Iran. The move effectively ends the limited cooperation framework signed between Tehran and the IAEA in September, which had allowed inspectors to return to Iranian nuclear sites after months of tension.

"The agreement has been cancelled," Larijani said during a meeting with his Iraqi counterpart in Tehran. However, he added that Iran remained open to reviewing any new proposals from the agency, saying, "If the agency has a proposal, we will review it in the secretariat."—RT/Agency

Trump Unveils Plans For Massive Ballroom At White House

WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump has revealed plans to build a massive new ballroom at the White House, marking one of the biggest changes to the presidential residence in more than a century.

Construction crews have already started tearing down part of the East Wing to make way for the grand project, which the US president says will be "big, beautiful, and built to last for generations."A mechanical excavator had ripped through the façade of the East Wing, leaving a tangle of broken masonry, rubble and steel wires, AFP journalists at the scene saw.Republican Trump said, as he hosted college baseball players at the White House on Monday, that "right on the other side you have a lot of construction that you might hear occasionally."The 79-year-old billionaire later officially announced that work had started on the ballroom, the biggest addition to the US presidential mansion in more than a century."I am pleased to announce that ground has been broken on the White House grounds to build the new, big, beautiful White House Ballroom," Trump said on his Truth Social network.—RT/Agency
